Banking system liquidity remained in surplus

- Banking system liquidity remained in a comfortable surplus during the month under review, primarily supported by robust foreign currency inflows mobilized through the RBI's special deposit scheme for overseas Indians, under which banks raised nearly $127 billion.
- Amid abundant liquidity conditions and emerging inflationary risks stemming from elevated crude oil prices, the RBI undertook open market sales of government securities worth Rs. 1 lakh crore and conducted multiple variable rate reverse repo auctions, underscoring its commitment to maintaining orderly liquidity conditions and effective monetary policy transmission.

CD yield movements throughout the last one year

- CD yields rose during the month due to tight banking system liquidity and strong demand for short-term funds, which increased banks' reliance on issuing CDs.

Movement of CPs during the year

- CP yields fell initially during the month on improved liquidity and lower funding pressure, but rose later as liquidity tightened and short-term rates increased.

Repo rate vs. Overnight rate trend

- The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC), in its fourth bi-monthly monetary policy review for FY27, decided to increase the policy repo rate under the Liquidity Adjustment Facility (LAF) by 25 bps to 5.50%.
- Consequently, the Standing Deposit Facility (SDF) rate was adjusted to 5.25%, and the Marginal Standing Facility (MSF) rate and the Bank Rate were raised to 5.75%. The MPC also changed its policy stance to calibrated tightening.

Treasury Bill Movement

- Treasury Bill yields fell during the month as demand for safe government securities remained strong and expectations of softer interest rates supported bond prices. Higher demand for T-bills pushed their prices up, resulting in lower yields.

Inflation remained under RBI's target of 4%

Factors presently influencing inflation

Fund Manager Commentary

- The overall curve remains relatively steep with Money Market yields falling on account of improved liquidity conditions as well as lower CD issuances. Additionally, the corporate bond curve has also steepened upto 3 years and remains flat thereafter with historically higher spreads on account of volatile crude prices and geopolitical uncertainties.
- The Sovereign Yield curve has flattened recently on account of OMO sales announced in the 4-8 year segment with 10x40 spreads remaining higher vis-à-vis historical averages.
- Additionally, Corporate Bond spreads between PSU entities as well NBFCs have increased on account of lower issuances by PSU entities owing to the concessional swap facility provided by RBI on ECBs
- Given that the curve remains steep upto three years with most negatives already priced-in, the fund might look to tactically increase allocations to higher duration based on prevailing spreads
